DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of species of Claim 1 for the treatment of prostate cancer in the reply filed on 12/19/2007 is acknowledged. The election/restriction is made FINAL.

Claims 13-20 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claims 1-12 are now examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Art Unit: 4173

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over CAMERON et al (WO 01/30331, see Applicants IDS stead 3/28/2006 cite BA) in view of ROKHLIN et al (J Biol Chem, 277:36, 33212-33219, see Applicants IDS stead 3/28/2006 cite CB).

CAMERON et al teaches bisindolylmaleimides compounds which encompass the instant compound of formula I that inhibits protein kinase C (PKC) and can be used to treat cancers (see claim 9 at page 47 and page 4 lines 6-12). CAMERON et al does not specifically disclose prostate cancer or androgen-independent prostatic adenocarcinoma.

ROKHLIN et al teaches PKC inhibiting bisindoolymaleimides are useful for treatment of androgen-independent prostate cancer (see page 33219 last paragraph) but does not teach the compounds instantly claimed.

Therefore, one of ordinary skill in the art would recognize that the compounds of CAMERON et al, which are taught as PKC inhibitors, may be used to treat cancers which are treatable by PKC inhibition, specifically androgen-independent prostate cancer as taught in ROKHLIN et al. It would also be obvious to one of skill in the art to treat both those who already have the cancer and those who may have been exposed to carcinogens and are at risk of developing prostate cancer.
